The background shows a dense urban area with colorful buildings and distant mountains under a hazy sky. The text 'Rotary Peace Fellow Alumni' is overlaid on the right side of the image in white.

Rotary Peace Fellow Alumni

Program alumni serve as leaders in government and nongovernment agencies, education and research, multilateral organizations such as United Nations agencies and the World Bank, law enforcement and the military, law, media and the arts, and other peacebuilding organizations.

Selection process

- July to October: The Rotary Peace Centers Committee, composed of Rotarians and university representatives, screens applications and selects finalists based on the following criteria:
  - Commitment to peace and development
  - Leadership potential
  - Compatibility with fellowship objectives and fit with Rotary
  - Academic record and compatibility with preferred university program
  - Certificate candidates only: Feasibility and impact of Social Change Initiative
- Candidates will be notified of the Rotary Foundation's decision in November.
- Once selected, master's fellowship finalists must apply separately for university admission.
